About Organica

Organica is a Moldovan wine export company built to bring the country’s winemaking tradition — among the oldest and richest in the world — to buyers, distributors, and partners abroad. We curate and export a broad portfolio of quality wines, from approachable everyday selections to premium and limited-edition bottlings.

Based in Chișinău, we work directly with an established Moldovan production facility, giving us close oversight of quality, supply, and pricing at every stage — from vineyard to export documentation.

Every bottle in our portfolio is sourced through this direct partnership, ensuring traceability, consistent quality, and reliable delivery timelines for our international partners.
